

Most Plants To Be Closed On Labor Day

For the most part Pottstown will relax on Labor Day. Most borough industries will be closed tomorrow, Sunday and Monday, and many borough residents will take off to the mountains or the seashore for a final fling with Summer.

The Doehler-Jarvis corporation and Spicer Manufacturing division of the Dana corporation will be closed from Saturday morning to Tuesday morning.

The Stanley G. Flagg company, West High street, Stowe, will close only on Labor Day. The Bethlehem Steel company will work on both tomorrow and Monday in an effort to help build up steel stock piles depleted by the recent steel strike.

The Pennsylvania State Employment service, 326 King street will be closed Saturday through Monday.

BOROUGH OFFICES. except for police, will be closed Monday. Supervisor E. Donald Grim, Pottstown postoffice, High and Washington streets reported the postoffice lobby will be open from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Skeleton crews of postal workers will work from 7 to 10 a. m. and from 4 to 6 p. m. Postal hours on Saturday will not change. The windows will close at noon, but the lobby will be open until 6 p. m.

A holiday collection of mails will be made at all points in Pottstown on Monday between 2 and 5 p. m.

All State offices in the borough will be closed, as will the Federal income tax office in the postoffice building.

Stores and banks will observe the holiday.

The holiday will be meaningless to many who must work as usual, including waitresses, bus drivers, telephone operators, bread and milk route drivers and of course, Mercury newsmen.

For children, the holiday will mark the end of Summer and the imminence of school opening.

Fire-Hit Industry In Royersford To Resume Working

Gruber Industries, Fourth avenue and Main street, Royersford, manufacturers of outdoor aluminum chairs, will be in operation in several weeks, despite the fire which raged through the single-story brick building Wednesday night.

Eli H. Gruber, owner of the Royersford plant, said last night, "We hope to be in operation in several weeks. We have not moved any of the debris because of insurance inspections."

"I don't know if we will be able to reconstruct the present plant. That will depend on what we find when the ruins are cleared away. We went through the plant today and oiled the machinery and protected it where we could."

Gruber explained cause of the fire still is unknown. He reported, "There was no combustible material in the storeroom. The only paint in the place was locked in a concrete cellar vault. And there's" (Continued on Page Eleven)

Electric Bills System Altered

Residents of Pennsburg, East Greenville, Red Hill and Palm will receive their electric bills every other month instead of monthly, starting October 1.

This announcement came from William Nottler, district manager for the Pennsylvania Power and Light company, which recently received permission from the Public Utility commission in Harrisburg to change their billing system.

"This system is being adopted to affect a savings for the company," explained Nottler.

Only homeowners will be billed bi-monthly, he said. Users of heavier loads will remain under the old system.

THE WEATHER

For Eastern Pennsylvania: Some cloudiness with high 82 to 86 to day. Tomorrow, rather cloudy, and warm with chance of scattered showers.

Quite a Job to Right It

A massive 25-ton crane rocked on its side in the gray bottom of Stowe Trap Rock quarry early last night. The orange, black and gray monster was exchanging swinging jaws from the quarry stone crusher when the motor stalled and Operator George Urban, 306 East Race street, Stowe, could not release the six-ton jaw on the end of the boom. The crane tipped over, but Urban, a foreman for Mayer Pollock company, escaped injury when he jumped clear of the sliding giant. Only the left trouser leg of his trousers was torn. Leon P. Malley, Philadelphia, general manager of Stowe Trap Rock company, (wearing hat), watched a Pollock crew right the crane with a power winch.

Crane Operator Jumps to Safety As 25-Ton Machine Falls Over

A Stowe crane operator miraculously escaped injury early last night when the 25-ton crane he was operating in Stowe Trap Rock quarry slumped over on its side.

George Urban, 306 East Race street, jumped clear of the toppling monster before it crunched against the pounded floor of the old quarry.

He escaped with a torn left trouser leg. Urban, a foreman for the Mayer Pollock company, helped a crew of workmen right the mammoth orange, black and gray Bay City crane as night settled over the quarry.

VFW Increases Dues First Time Since Founding

The first increase in the annual dues of Pottstown Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 780 since the post was organized 20 years ago was approved last night.

Dues payable in October for 1953 will be $4 instead of $3. The increase was approved by a majority of the 21 members attending last night's August meeting of the post.

The reason given for the $1 boost is that the VFW national headquarters has raised its assessment of its 48 state departments and the state departments have increased their assessments $1.25.

A representative of the local post said the part of extra tax has been passed on to the individual members because "the post could not absorb the extra expense without doing so."

Sedan and Truck Crash on Tracks

A 1939 sedan and a pick-up truck were damaged yesterday afternoon at 4:10 o'clock on the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks at the Keim street crossing. No one was injured.

Minnie N. Sutton, 568 Walnut street, was driving north on South Keim street. As she crossed the railroad tracks she said she skidded into the truck.

Charles J. Matz, 145 South Washington street, Boyertown, was traveling south on Keim street. He said he saw the other car coming around the curve. He said it was going "in fast" and struck his.

Matz said the damage done to the left side of his car was so extensive that it would not be worth fixing.

The left front of the sedan was badly smashed and twisted. The left front tire was flattened as a result of the collision and the steering wheel was broken.

J P Appointment Is Big Surprise To Area Man

Ernest H. Reifsnider, Boyertown RD 1, was amazed when the Mercury informed him late last night that he had been appointed Colebrookdale Justice of the Peace by Governor John S. Fine.

"It's possible, but I can hardly believe it," he said.

Reifsnider, who conducts a notary public and insurance agent business at his home address on a part time basis, said he sent an application to the governor Tuesday to fill the opening in Colebrookdale.

"The letter could not have been received before Wednesday and today is only Thursday so you can see why I say that I can hardly believe I have been appointed yet," he said.

HE FILLS a vacancy created three years ago by the death of former Colebrookdale Justice of the Peace John R. Fegley.

The new justice of the peace works as a bookkeeper at Kuser Brothers Incorporated, Boyertown. He has been employed there for 10 years.

All Borough School Buildings Have Had Improvements Made During the Summer

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth and final article in a series giving Pottstown an up-to-date report on improvements made in its public schools during the Summer months. The series has attempted to show why the borough school system enjoys its fine rating.)

Although Rupert and Lincoln elementary schools and the Senior High school have the biggest improvements made by the school district this Summer, there is not a building that has not been improved in at least one direction.

Of the improvements as a whole, H. Bert Shaw, board president, commented: "I think that the children, teachers, everybody will be surprised at how much has been done in a short space of time."

Shaw and four other school directors—William H. Yohn, Carl M. Binder, H. Clifford Creswell and Charles L. Rohland—made an inspection of renovations this week.

In addition to admiring the new things, they made extensive notes on the need for further minor repair jobs or material replacements.

At the Junior High school, the large cafeteria has been covered with one-inch-thick acoustical tile that will cut down either the clatter of dishes at lunchtime or the volume of conversation when it is used as a study hall.

IN ADDITION, the cafeteria kitchen has new fluorescent lighting and a large storage room for staple foods.

Virtually all floors in the school have been resanded and sealed. The hallway floors have been painted a glossy gray.

One classroom used by a special education group has been enlarged and the mechanical drawing room is being enlarged to take care of the new graphic arts work being (Continued on Page Two)

Humidity's Back Again

It may have been only 79 degrees at the mercury's peak climb yesterday—but the sweat rolled just the same.

Yet many Pottstown area residents didn't mind the high humidity as they anticipated a three-day Labor Day weekend at cool seashore or mountain resorts.

Even if busy with the activity of packing play-toys and getting the old buggy in shape for the last mass exodus of the waning Summer, it's a good idea to hear what the weatherman has to say.

Not quite in accord with the holiday mood shared by other prospective vacationers, he whippers a bit of unpleasant advice: "Better take your umbrellas and raincoats along."

Although today's expected weather of "some cloudiness and high temperatures of 82 to 86 may not be enough to convince the more frivolous, tomorrow's forecasts calls for "cloudy and warm with chance of scattered showers."

Police Make Things Tough For Burglars

For burglars of all ages operating in that part of the Pottstown area patrolled by Jeffersonville State police, this month is proving to be an absolutely terrible period.

The station reported yesterday that five burglaries and ransackings of homes on Collegeville RD 1 have been solved by Corp. Donald C. Bearcraft with the arrest of four boys, aged 10 to 14, who live in that section.

This brings the total number of cases solved as a result of arrests made by Jeffersonville State police in the Pottstown area so far this month to 29.

Early in the month, Troopers Carl Ziegler and Vincent McGlone nabbed a 32-year-old ex-convict, shortly after a safe-cracking in Palm. This man now is being held on charges of committing 22 burglaries.

THE PAST August, Troopers Clem Seruski and Raymond Beninato chased and caught two red-light passers, aged 42 and 48, who now are being held for stealing quantities of merchandise from an auction market near Limerick and from two cars parked near auction markets.

Sgt. Thomas V. Devlin and Corp. Bearcraft did the questioning and investigating that followed the Palm and Limerick arrests.

The station announced yesterday that the sergeant and corporal had recovered approximately $150 more in stolen merchandise linked to the men arrested near Limerick. The two officers prevailed (Continued on Page Two)

Charles Endy Named New Commissioner In West Pottsgrove

Charles "Hank" Endy, a political newcomer and a native of Stowe, was appointed by a 3-1 vote to serve the unexpired portion of the late Lloyd A. Koch's four-year term as a West Pottsgrove township commissioner.

Board of Commissioners President Peter Dori and Elmer E. Hampton and Charles H. Frech, all Republicans, voted for Republican Endy. Democratic Commissioner William J. Regan cast the negative vote.

The 43-year-old Endy, who lives on Grossstown road, won the seat over Clarence Matz, the West Pottsgrove Democratic club's choice for the post, because of his availability during the day to contend with township problems.

Dori said Endy never has been in politics, not even as a worker for the Republican party at elections.

Dori added after the special meeting of the commissioners in the West End Fire company hall at which the resolution appointing Endy was approved:

"We feel that he has quite a bit of time to give to the township and is available at any time during the day. We need someone else besides me during the day to take care of the little things that pop up."

Colebrookdale Teacher Takes Another Post

The resignation of a second teacher at Colebrookdale school, Douglass township, Berks county, and a plea for State police protection were new developments yesterday in the case of Mrs. Mary H. Trethewey and the township school board.

Mrs. Esther H. Stauffer, Pottstown RD 5, teacher at the Colebrookdale school for the past nine years, mailed the Douglass township school board notice of her resignation early yesterday.

Late last night she signed a contract with the Upper Merion school board to teach the Third and Fourth grades. At the Colebrookdale school, Mrs. Stauffer taught the Seventh and Eighth grades and was head teacher (principal) of the school.

The plea for State police protection was made by M. Bernard Hoffman, attorney for Mrs. Trethewey.

IN A letter to Reading State police, he said Mrs. Trethewey had been threatened over the telephone "on numerous occasions."

He pointed out that Mrs. Trethewey had been officially cleared of cruelty charges made against her by parents and said that she intends to resume teaching at Colebrookdale school when it opens Tuesday.

Mrs. Stauffer's resignation followed a two-fold development this month:

1. Mrs. Reinhold Ditscher, 122 (Continued on Page Eleven)

Flagg Men Accept New Agreement

Employees of the Stanley G. Flagg company, West High street, Stowe, yesterday accepted a new contract by a 6-1 margin.

Two hundred and forty-five members of Local 2326, United Steel Workers (CIO), voted to accept company offers which include a 10-cent hourly wage increase across the board, an improved vacation clause and increased insurance benefits.

Forty-five votes were cast against the contract and five ballots were voided.

The total of 290 ballots cast amounted to slightly more than 40 percent of the nearly 700 union members eligible to vote.

The change in vacation clause provides all employees with less than 32 pay periods be paid respectively 2, 4 and 6 percent of their weekly average pay for the year depending on their vacation periods, one, two and three weeks.

Florida Was Lonely So George T. Arms Came Home Again

George T. Arms (above) 84-year-old former treasurer of Brookside Country club, has reversed the Pottstown-to-Florida path followed by many men after their retirement. He went to Florida 2 1/2 years ago, expecting to find living ideal. Yesterday, he came back in Pottstown, intending to stay. Arms reported he came close to "cooking to death" in St. Petersburg, and he found Florida's reputation for friendliness is grossly exaggerated. To get back among friends, Arms took the first airplane ride of his life.

By FRED C. SELBY

(Mercury Staff Writer)

George T. Arms, 84-year-old former treasurer of Brookside country club and borough official, returned to Pottstown yesterday after a 2 1/2 year absence. He had radically altered opinions on Florida and airplanes, and the same old gift for pungent self-expression.

Florida is where he's been since he left the borough, of which he'd been a lifelong resident. He went to St. Petersburg to live by himself.

He thought it would be wonderful, meeting new friends, enjoying the sunshine, improving his health.

"Talk about meeting people," Arms said gently, his eyes twinkling. "Well, I'll tell you who I met in all that time there: a couple of storekeepers who worked right below me; the ticket-choppers at the movies; them, and a doctor, that's who I met."

As for sunshine, there was plenty of that. "For the last two months," he declared, "the temperature in my apartment was

Ad in Mercury Reunites Man With His Niece

A Mercury advertisement brought about the reunion of a Pottstown man and a 52-year-old niece he had never seen.

Harry Trumbauer, Pughtown, was host to Mrs. Gilbert Seawell, Independence, Kan., yesterday, the daughter of an adventurous brother who left home at the age of 19 to search for gold in the Far West.

Trumbauer had never heard from his brother Frank since he left this area more than 80 years ago. But about five years ago someone brought an advertisement in The Mercury to his attention.

The notice read, "Anyone knowing the whereabouts of Harry Trumbauer please contact Mrs. Gilbert Seawell, Independence, Kan."

A Quick Look at Your Neighbor

By MARTIN SALTICH

FREDERICK G. ERB, PRESIDENT OF THE CITIZENS NATIONAL BANK AND TRUST COMPANY, is a man who doesn't believe in keeping banker's hours.

Although the bank's hours are the usual 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily, Erb is available for conferences with clients after those hours and over the weekend. "I believe in our slogan, The Bank of Service," he declares.

The president believes in giving an audience to anyone who comes to the bank for aid. "I listen to their story," he says, "and if I have to turn them down, I explain why. When I took this job I made up my mind I was going to give equal service to everyone, regardless of color or creed."

A native of Pottstown, Erb was born on June 19, 1897, and grew up in the Ninth ward. By the time he graduated from Pottstown High School, Erb's tendency toward banking was evident. He was treasurer of his class, a position to which he has been continually re-elected at reunions.

After graduation, Erb joined the Security Trust company as a clerk, performing such duties as changing the ice in the water cooler and taking care of the fountain pens. Erb was a teller when he left the bank five years later.

He became a bookkeeper with the Vaughan Knitting company and was later advanced to office manager and supervisor of the finishing, boarding and shipping departments. After 23 years with the knitting company, Erb left to become vice-president of the Citizens National Bank and Trust company in 1943. He was elected president in January, 1946.

Although the Citizens National is still the smallest bank in Pottstown, Erb has devoted his energies to making it one of the most progressive. The building at High and Franklin streets has been modernized with air-conditioning, a drive-in window, parking lot and microfilm records of all transactions. Since Erb joined the bank, deposits have increased from $3,000,000 to almost $7,000,000.

Erb also helped organize the Pottstown Savings and Loan association in 1935, and has been serving as president since 1939. He also is a trustee of Muhlenberg college, Allentown, treasurer of the Pottstown Chamber of Commerce, a member of the executive committee of the Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania, and a member of Lodge 367, Loyal Order of Moose.

Erb will serve as a delegate to the bi-annual convention of the United Lutheran church of America in Seattle, Wash., from Oct. 8 to 15.

He married the former Naoma Stein in 1918, and the couple have two children: Gladys, wife of C. Clair Moulder of Coatesville, and Frederick Jr., a student at Mt. Airy Seminary. Erb and his wife also manage a general store at their residence in Elverson RD 1.

He remains optimistic about the future of banking in Pottstown, primarily because the borough's economic strength is based on diversified industries.

"I believe in not putting all your eggs into one basket," says Erb. "It is better that Pottstown is not a one-company town, like some other small communities."

Erb considers his job a big responsibility, explaining, "When a banker handles other people's money he has to be conservative. But I try to provide as much service as possible."

"THERE'S NEVER A DULL MOMENT IN MY JOB," Says Warren F. DeLong, general manager of the Ellis Mills Department store.

"Something's always coming up with the advertising buying or display windows," declares DeLong, who says his greatest satisfaction has been watching the store grow during his six years with the firm.

Born in Allentown on Oct. 4, 1911, DeLong was one of a family of five boys. His early ambition was to become a public accountant, and he left high school in his Junior year to attend night classes at the Allentown Business college.

In order to raise the tuition, DeLong became a check boy at the Hess Brothers department store and gradually became more interested in retailing than accounting. He advanced from wrapper to bookkeeper salesman. At the end of eight years, when he left the firm DeLong was buyer of ladies' sportswear and assistant merchandise manager in the ready-to-wear department.

In 1936, he became merchandise manager of a Wilmington, Del., specialty store to gain experience in this field. Three years later he assumed a similar position with a Reading specialty store, and remained there until inducted into the Army in April, 1944.

DeLong became an infantryman in the European theater, and was wounded by shrapnel during a night patrol in Germany shortly before Thanksgiving, 1944, for which he later received a Purple Heart.

DeLong recovered in an English hospital, and was then made a motor pool dispatcher. This job, with its weekend passes, afforded him an opportunity to study retailing first-hand in several European countries. He interviewed managers and customers in stores in England, Switzerland, France, Luxembourg and Belgium. He even arranged an appointment with Mme. Schiaparelli, famed Parisian designer.

DeLong passed up a chance to study department store management at the University of Bristol, England, in favor of an early discharge from the Army. He arrived home on Christmas, 1945.

After spending six months with a specialty shop in Camden, N. J., DeLong was appointed assistant manager and buyer of the Ellis Mills store in Aug. 1946. He was named acting manager in 1949, and general manager the past Feb. 1.

DeLong married the former Florence Calkins in June, 1933, and the couple have three children: Lawrence, 15; Allyn, 10; and Melissa, just three weeks old. Some day DeLong would like to take his family on a visit to Switzerland, his favorite European nation.

"I thought I was home when I was there," says DeLong. "The people were so nice, and the country so beautiful. Pictures don't do it justice."

DeLong is a director of the Pottstown Rotary club, past Sunday school teacher of Trinity Reformed church and a member of the Mercantile Bureau. For recreation, he likes to toss quoits on the lawn of his home at 980 Terrace lane, and do minor repairs around the house.

When vacation time rolls around, he heads for the mountains for fishing, swimming and boating. He doesn't have to worry about clothes up there.

Amvets Set 500 As Goal In Fall Membership Drive

Fifteen members of Pottstown Post 23, Amvets Home association, met last night to discuss plans for building up the organization's membership and improving their quarters at 280 High street.

The membership drive is scheduled to begin Oct. 1, when most of the interior improvements are expected to be completed.

A spokesman for the group said that their goal will be 500 members. "With the coming opening of weekend activity at the post, we feel we can get that many," he stated.

Collegeville Police Chief Nabs Suspect Wanted in Reading

A 24-year-old man wanted by Reading State police and the Reading and Allentown police departments for larceny of automobiles and money, was arrested by Collegeville Police Chief George Moyer at 9:30 o'clock last night in Grace's luncheonette, Collegeville.

Fred Neidig, suspected of stealing the autos from car dealers and disappearing with money belonging to his co-workers in a Reading business establishment, was taken to the Reading State Police barracks by Jeffersonville State Troopers Vincent McGlone and Clem Serocki when remanded to them by Moyer.

Neidig is being held for questioning by Pvt. John Reemer, of the Reading State Police.

Neidig is alleged to have inspected automobiles as if intending to purchase them, then persuade dealers to permit him to drive them home to show his wife. He never was seen after leaving the auto agencies with the cars.

The amount of money he is supposed to have absconded with was not disclosed by the Reading State Police.

High, York Accident Gets 2-Way Blame

Two motorists blamed each other for a collision involving their automobiles at High and York streets at 8:10 o'clock last night. Both cars were damaged, but only one had to be towed to a repair shop.

Billy L. Mour, Reading, told Patrolmen William H. Myers and John G. Paretti he was driving westward on High street after a traffic light had changed green, when the accident occurred.

He said Ronald M. Mauger, 311 Beech street, attempted to make a left hand turn in front of him from the eastbound lane of High street into York street and their cars collided.

Mauger claimed Mour's auto "tore out from the light" and struck the right front fender, door and wheel of his car, which had to be towed away.

The right front fender of Mour's vehicle was damaged.

North Reading avenue, Boyertown, Third and Fourth grade teacher at the school, resigned the past Aug. 10.

2. The school board notified Mrs. Stauffer informally that it had hired a man to teach her Seventh and Eighth grade classes and intended to have her teach the Third and Fourth grades.

MRS. STAUFFER said she understood that the board intended to let her keep the title of head teacher, but she added she could not be certain about this until she received the formal notification, being mailed her by the board.

Mrs. Stauffer declined to make any further comment about the reason for her resignation.

She did add, however, "Once I finally made the decision, it was a great relief. I dreaded going back there."

The incoming Seventh and Eighth grade teacher is Richard Eugene Pentz of Kutztown, who was graduated this Summer from Kutztown State Teachers college.

He will be the only male teacher at Colebrookdale school. At the district's other school in Pine Forge, Earl H. Moyer is head teacher and teacher of the Seventh and Eighth grades.

HOFFMAN SENT his protection request to Capt. Edwin C. Griffith, of the State police barracks in Reading.

Capt. Griffith said yesterday that he would have the patrols in the section keep a close eye out for any disturbance at the school, but did not plan to provide any personal bodyguard service for Mrs. Trethewey.

A copy of the letter to Griffith sent to The Mercury by Hoffman, said in its entirety:

"As attorney for Mrs. Mary H. Trethewey, a school teacher of Colebrookdale Public school, located in Douglas township, Berks county, Pennsylvania, I am respectfully requesting the protection by the Pennsylvania State police for Mrs. Mary H. Trethewey, who has been threatened by phone on numerous occasions with bodily harm.

"This teacher has been absolved of any wrongdoing in her capacity as a teacher and intends to appear on Tuesday, Sept. 2, 1952, to take up her duties, which should not be interfered with.

"I AM also sending a copy of this letter to the Press and to Ralph Body, esquire, solicitor for the school directors of Colebrookdale Public school.

"I hope Mrs. Trethewey will receive the protection of the law, which entitles her to teach without being molested, threatened with bodily harm or prevented from following her occupation as school teacher which is guaranteed to her by the laws of the Commonwealth.

"I trust the Press of our community will use its good offices to prevent a disgraceful and un-American spectacle which would occur if Mrs. Trethewey should be in any way molested or assaulted."

Mrs. Trethewey appeared at each of four sessions during which the school board heard testimony for her and against her.

THE BOARD cleared her of the charges brought by parents, voting 2-2 on the question of her guilt. A two-thirds vote is required by law to convict a teacher of such charges.

At the end of the first hearing session, a group of spectators waiting in a Colebrookdale school hallway booed and jeered at Mrs. Trethewey when she passed.

Louis Sager, attorney for the complaining parents, warned spectators against further such demonstrations. After Sager's warning, Mrs. Trethewey came to and left the hearings amid silence.

Joint School Board Planning Open House

Collegeville-Trappe Joint school board voted last night to conduct the open house in the enlarged high school in October.

The new stone wing will be open for classes for the first time this Fall. Classrooms are being equipped with chairs and desks for a christening Sept. 8, the opening day of school.

Teachers will report to the school next Wednesday Mrs. Glady Pearlstone, a member of the joint board, was named chairman of a committee which will plan for the open house.

Directors last night increased the insurance coverage on the expanded school building to $550,000.

The board voted to apply to the State department of public instruction for rental reimbursements, which the school district rates under a new State statute.

THE LAW provides a sum to school districts which rents new buildings or additions from municipal authorities.

The joint school district rents the new structure from a municipal authority. It pays interest and a percentage of the principal annually, which is considered rent. For this the State will reimburse the district an estimated $500 annually.

The school district will own new stone wing in approximately 30 years.

Davis, Dunlap and Carver, Philadelphia architectural engineers, were hired to draw plans for fireproofing of the boiler room in the Collegeville elementary school, to plan fireproof hallways in the school and to plan for an outside exit to the school cafeteria.

THE CITADEL's youth program has proved of inestimable value to youngsters throughout the area. More than 150 boys and girls were sent to Summer camps this year, many to Camp Upland, the Salvation Army's camp near Chester.

A youth band, with instruments supplied by the Army, hobby clubs and recreation are part of the program at the citadel. Each Monday night the "Army" visits Valley Forge Hospital to bring refreshments and entertainment to wounded servicemen.

As part of his program for servicemen, Capt. Flinn visits Indian town Gap Military reservation to distribute cold drinks, ice-cream, doughnuts, pretzels and other refreshments to members of Company A, 11th Infantry Regimental Combat Team, presently undergoing training with other National Guard units.

The Salvation Army does not just wait for people to come for aid. The organization is on hand shortly after an emergency occurs. Capt. Meral E. Cox, who was assigned to York last month, was a familiar sight at major fires, supplying coffee and doughnuts to firemen.

For girls, there are two organizations, the Sunbeams and the Girl Scouts.

The Sunbeams plan hikes, picnics and swimming sessions, and receive instruction in first aid. The Girl Scouts, members of which range from 11 to 18 years of age, have a chance to go to Summer camp and learn outdoor skills.

Norco High Seniors Plan Washington Trip

North Coventry High school Seniors will make their annual trip to Washington, D. C. Sept. 8-10, it was reported by Supervising Principal Paul H. Grim last night.

The class of 1953 numbers 48 pupils. A majority of the class will make the trip.

They will leave on two buses from the school at 7 a.m. Sept. 8.

Grim also reported the school district has lost the services of Jesse Delp, art teacher.

Miss Delp called the supervising principal from Pensacola, Fla., at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and told him she is seeking employment in Florida and will not return for the 1952-1953 school term.

A native of Indiana, Pa., and a graduate of Indiana State Teachers college, Miss Delp taught at North Coventry for the past two years.

KEEPING ROADS OPEN
is a family job
for the Strawmyers

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Meet Jim Strawmyer... Trooper James E. Strawmyer Jr. of the Pennsylvania State Police.

It's Jim's job to help keep traffic moving smoothly and safely on the world-famous Pennsylvania Turnpike. Two years' experience as a trooper and four years' naval service in the Pacific during World War II give him a good background for this work.

Jim's wife Nancy helps keep traffic moving, too, though in a different way. As a clerk in the Telephone Company's plant department at Greensburg, Nancy keeps up-to-date records and reports on plant maintenance matters... the physical condition of cable and wire and poles and other telephone equipment. Such records help telephone engineers keep the telephone system at peak efficiency, so your calls can go through the way you want them to.

Community service runs in the veins of families like the Strawmyers... although they'd call it "all part of the job." It is this spirit of service, seldom mentioned but always evident, that makes your telephone so dependable and so useful every day in the year.

GLEN MOORE

Mrs. Francis Hogan, corr. Richard Reizer, del. Phone Pottstown 1475-4

Some 15 Boy Scouts and Explorers from troop 161, Philadelphia, under the leadership of Scoutmaster Earl Hershey attended the church school at Glen Moore church. They are in the area for summer camp about ten days, an annual affair for the troop.

The guest speaker at the morning worship, J. Holland Heck, of Grove Methodist church, took for his message a discourse on the Bible, especially the comparative values of the present translations as compared with the new revised standard version of the Bible appearing to the public in the Fall. Following the sermon the gospel hymn "Pray On" was sung by Mrs. Grier Miller and Mrs. James Keenan. Ushers for the morning were Joe Mason Jr. and Tom Miller, Jr. Flowers for the church were arranged by Mrs. Lloyd Johnson and Mrs. James Keenan.

The outdoor service on the church lawn was led by Joe Mason, Jr. with the meditation by the pastor on the subject "Just Outside The Door." The thought expressed was that so often people never have a real Christian experience because no one invites them into the church where they can experience Christian things; that so often we must open the door of our hearts so that Jesus may be able to speak more clearly to our spirits. Ushers for the evening were Richard Mason and David Miller. Two solos were sung by the pastor, "Hark, Hark My Soul" and "Just Outside The Door."

The outdoor service Sunday will be changed to an inside meeting because of the shortness of the evening. The Rev. Bill Cherry of Paoli church will bring the message and his new wife, Mrs. Virginia Cherry, will assist him at the organ. Leader for this service will be Tom Miller, Jr.

The Ushers association of Glen Moore church met recently at the church for a business meeting and rehearsal. Those present were Grier Miller Jr., head usher; Joe Mason, Jr., Tom Miller, Jr., Richard Mason, David Miller, Bill Houck, Stanford Dunk, Bill Harple, Ethel Patterson, church organist, and the pastor. The meeting was directed by Grier Miller, Jr. who explained the purpose of the meeting and guided the ushers in a rehearsal of their present duties as well as a number of new duties.

'Hopalong' Abramowitz Is Bronx' Last Cowboy

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—Harry (Hopalong) Abramowitz is probably the last cowboy in the Bronx section of New York.

His "ranch" is scattered all over the borough. In a three-story stable he keeps 43 horses, 12 goats and a dog. On five lots he has a rare assortment of wagons of all sorts—covered wagons, buckboards, surreys, tallyhos, victorias and barouches.

The 64-year-old "cowboy" rents his equipment to advertise bond rallies, movies, parades, political candidates and commercial products. He began his collection in 1910 when he bought 64 carriages from a member of the Vanderbilt family for a total price of $50.

Arizona Police Use Radar on Speeders

PHOENIX, Ariz., Aug. 28 (AP)—Radar is being used with marked success by the Arizona Highway Patrol to cut down speeding on the wide-open stretches of the State's highways.

And by cutting down on speeding, the highway patrol hopes to limit the number of highway deaths which reached an all-time record of 413 last year.

In each of the four cars the radar screen is so adjusted that it records directly the speed of an oncoming auto. Because it takes three men to operate the radar-equipped cars, they are only used from time to time to check speeders. Radar cars stop 40 to 50 speeders within a three-hours period.

It's Not All Work During Training

1 Communist Killed In UN Prison Camps

SEOUL, Friday, Aug. 29 (AP)—The Army today reported one Communist prisoner killed and 26 slightly injured in UN prison camps since Sunday.

A UN command spokesman said the report brings up to date the list of incidents which resulted in the death of four prisoners and injuries to 64 others between July 20 and Aug. 24.

The latest prisoner death was accidental, the Army announced at Pusan. A member of a work detail was killed by falling rocks Sunday near Masan, Korea, when a dynamite charge touched off a landslide. One of the 26 injured was hurt at the same time.

Fifteen prisoners suffered minor injuries Wednesday, the Army said, when guards silenced a singing demonstration in Compound F on Koje island. None required hospitalization.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 28 (AP)—"Oh, boy, now I've got a catcher's mask!" shouted 4-year-old Tommy Buckman to his mother today.

Momma found that Tommy had stuck a wire milk bottle basket firmly over his head.

When she tried to take it off, it wouldn't budge. A pair of snippers also failed to do the job.

Finally, she called city firemen, who removed the mask—with a hacksaw.

Friendship firemen, responding to a still alarm early yesterday afternoon at Colonial apartments, Fourth avenue and Myrtle street, Royersford, averted a probable fire in the basement.

An old electric refrigerator developed a short circuit, melted the starter box off and started filling the building with smoke when the fire company's Minute Man apparatus responded.

The firemen pulled the plug and stopped the motor.

Blind Student Graduates With Highest Honors

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 28 (AP)—John Conley held with pride today a ribbon-bedecked diploma from the University of Pittsburgh which notes he graduated with highest honors. But he can't read it.

The modest young Pittsburgh student is blind. He lost his sight 12 years ago at the age of 12 due to detached retinas. But with the devoted and patient help of friends who "acted as his eyes," Conley realized his boyhood ambition to win a college degree.

Conley completed his college course in three years with almost a straight "A" average. He majored in psychology and plans to enter Pitt's law school.

Fake Hold-up Finished With Bottle Over Head

MADISON, Ill., Aug. 28 (AP)—Jack Karpowitz hadn't seen his boyhood chum, Paul Rogenski since leaving here 25 years ago.

So Karpowitz, now of Martin, Ill., just as a joke sauntered into Rogenski's tavern here and in the best of badman style demanded the money in the cash register.

His play ended in one act. Eddie Gocklan, Rogenski's partner, promptly smashed a bottle of whiskey on the "hold-up man's" head and with other patrons thoroughly beat up Karpowitz before he could explain.

An Old Hand in Politics

Flying Saucers Topped; Airplane Has Triplets

LONDON, Aug. 28 (AP)—The British came up today with something better than a flying saucer—they had a report of a plane that gives birth to triplets.

Three friends reported to the Ministry of Civil Aviation that they saw a high-flying plane suddenly disgorge one small plane, then another and finally a third.

Each of the three ejected planes then shot off in different directions high in the skies over London, the three persons reported.

The Ministry of Civil Aviation said "we have no information of anything in the air today which could bear any relation to the report."

GOP CAMPAIGN WILL HIT HARD

Bare Knuckles Stage In Corners of Nation Forecast by Leaders

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (U.P.)—Eisenhower headquarters rallied Republican party leaders today with word that the GOP presidential campaign soon will roar into the bare knuckles stage in all corners of the nation.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower didn't go quite that far himself. But he gave separate assurances to New York and New Jersey Republican chieftains that the next 10 days will see a "hard hitting" campaign under way.

And Eisenhower lieutenants said that a fast fling through the South next week, followed by a foray into the Midwest, will be only a start. Another Midwestern tour is in the planning stage. So are stumping trips that will take in New England, the west coast, some of the border states and probably additional parts of the South—Texas, at least.

James Hagerly, the general's press secretary, told reporters they "might expect some fireworks" to explode on the southern trip.

AND EISENHOWER, Hagerly announced, is making no appointments for tomorrow, Saturday or Sunday so he can put in his time on campaign speeches.

Some Eisenhower rosters have let it be known they feel the Republican nominee for the White House hasn't been putting enough zip into his campaign or his speeches up to now. The emphasis at Eisenhower headquarters appeared today to be directed toward easing fears that the general won't be swinging hard and on specific issues.

Eisenhower himself led off the day, at 8:50 a. m., (Pottstown time) with a conference with New York State Republican Chairman William L. Pfeiffer and GOP leaders of the eight counties of the New York city metropolitan area.

"We assured the General of our complete confidence he will carry our State," Pfeiffer told reporters. "He in turn assured us he is going to wage a fighting, hard-hitting campaign that is going to get under way in the very near future."

At lunch time, the General got together with New Jersey Republican Chairman John Dickerson and leaders of all New Jersey's 21 counties. Dickerson said Eisenhower told them the hard hitting part of the campaign will start "within the next 10 days."

NATIONAL COMMITTEE WOMEN from 11 eastern States, from Maine to Maryland, also were on Eisenhower's list of 14 appointments for the day, and so were various labor spokesmen.

Percy Miller, New Jersey commissioner of labor and industry, brought more than a score of New Jersey CIO and AFL leaders to Eisenhower headquarters to see the General, although he said that some AFL leaders he did not name reportedly attempted to keep fellow presidents of local unions from the conference.

Miller, a Republican predicted a large part of the New Jersey labor vote will fall in behind Eisenhower. He said that the president of the New Jersey Building Trades council of the AFL, Sal. Masso, intends to vote the Republican ticket. The national president of the AFL Building Trades department Richard J. Gray, came out for Eisenhower yesterday.

Miller said the general thinks the Taft Hartley labor law ought to be revised and intends to call later a labor management conference to consider specific changes.

President David B. Robertson of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen an independent union, called on Eisenhower but left without talking to reporters. An Eisenhower aide, Arthur H. Vandenberg Jr., who sat in on the meeting, said the General and union leader agreed there ought to be "less governmental interference with labor management relations."

Vandenberg said there was no mention of what political stand the brotherhood might take. Dickerson said the New Jersey county chairmen who saw Eisenhower included three who backed Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the Republican presidential nomination. He said the General remarked that "more and more Taft people are coming in and working with headquarters and we welcome their assistance."

Prime Minister Dissolves Japanese Diet; Throws Rival Political Party Off Balance

TOKYO Friday, Aug. 29 (U.P.)—not issues as Japanese trade with Japan's political parties today. Red China, now frowned on by the headed into an election campaign United States, the rights of America which may sharply affect this year and United Nations forces in nation's future course in the side Japan, and the building of a struggle between the Communist Japanese military force.

Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida, in a surprise political stroke yesterday dissolved the lower house of the Diet (parliament) and called for a general election Oct. 1. A Liberal (conservative) party leadership hurled by Ichiro Hatoyama, one-time head of the party.

Hatoyama who wanted a November election, predicted defeat for Yoshida.

Hatoyama is on record with the statement that Japan must trade with Red China if she is to regain her economic feet.

He also wants to limit sharply the rights of American security forces in Japan under a Yoshida agreement, and would like to erase the constitutional restriction against a Japanese army.

Hatoyama only recently cleared of a six-year purge ordered by occupation powers, said today that after the Oct. 1 election Yoshida will "hand over" the reins of the Liberals to him.

HE WANTS to assume the party's presidency which he will do to Yoshida when he purged in 1946 for having written a book praising Hitler and Mussolini.

The Liberals held the power in the old Diet with 266 seats. Next in strength were the Progressives with 67. The Socialists held 46, split 29 in the right wing and 16 in the left. Next came the Communists with 22. Other minorities totaled 17 and there were 29 vacancies.

If the Liberals come out of the young with the same number of seats it is likely Yoshida will again be the party's choice for prime minister. But if the total is reduced Hatoyama possibly will be picked to head the cabinet.

Truman Says Acheson Best Man For Job

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—President Truman replied today to an American Legion demand that Secretary of State Acheson be fired by saying Acheson is the best man in the U. S. for the job.

A reporter asked if his answer then was, no, Acheson won't be fired. The president said he'd have to stand on what he had said—that if he gave his real answer to the Legion, it wouldn't be printable.

Truman told his weekly news conference that the Legion resolution, adopted by acclamation yesterday, was drawn up by some young boys. If they had the responsibility for choosing a secretary of state, Truman said, they would pick Acheson the best man in the country.

Today's presidential conference was short (eight minutes), good natured and not very newsy.

In short order, the President touched on the following topics:

1. A suggestion by Col. Robert McCormick, published in the Chicago Tribune, that there should be a third party.

Grinning Truman said he was going to give all the encouragement possible to any suggestion of a bolt from the Republican party. He said McCormick was trying to pull an 1862 on us. That's when, he said, the Whig party went out of business.

BUT WHEN someone tried to pin him down on whether he thought there was a chance the Republican party was going out of business, Truman said he wasn't a prophet or a pollster.

2. The iron curtain Truman was asked if he thought it possible to roll back the curtain to the borders of the Soviet Union with out using force. His answer was that he couldn't answer that today.

3. The Tideland issue. Did Truman think Gov. Adlai Stevenson had hurt himself any by his stand against State ownership of under sea oil lands?

McCarthy Will Ask Advice of Doctors

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 28 (AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) is going to Washington for medical advice as to whether he can take the stump in his campaign for re-nomination Sept. 9.

He said today he would make a major speech in Milwaukee Sept. 3, his first public appearance since undergoing abdominal surgery if doctors at the Bethesda (Md.) Naval hospital approve. But he laughed off an offer by his arch political opponent former Senator Millard Tydings of Maryland for a face-to-face debate in the State.

McCarthy said he hoped to leave by plane tonight but might not get away until tomorrow morning.

Controls Lifted For Radio Sets

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—The Government suspended price controls today on radios, television sets, record players, carpets and bedding.

It also abolished price controls on vitrified chinaware, hand made household glassware, silverware and jewelry.

Legion Fires Back Salvos at President

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—President Truman, the old artillery man, fired a verbal cannon ball into the midst of the huge American Legion ranks today—and wasn't long getting a salvo right back.

At his Washington news conference the President—a member of the American Legion himself—turned loose some red-hot ammunition at the Legion for its resolution denouncing Secretary of State Acheson and demanding his ouster forthwith.

Truman said Acheson is the best man for the job in the entire United States.

The Legion's resolution, he went on to say, was got up by

Justice Department Is Rebuked for Way It Handled Tax Fraud

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—The Justice department's handling of the 1951 tax fraud scandal in St. Louis drew stinging criticism tonight from both Democratic and Republican members of a House committee investigating it.

"Whitewash" and "most reprehensible" were two of the terms applied to the role of the department and of Ellis A. Slack, an acting assistant attorney general, in particular.

These blasts came after Federal Judge George H. Moore Jr. told investigators the Justice department—from former Attorney General J. Howard McGrath on down—dragged their feet in a grand jury inquiry into the St. Louis Internal Revenue office.

More said in a sworn statement read at today's hearing that the department took no action to get a complete investigation started until he served notice by plane tonight but might not get away until tomorrow morning.

Wanted Man Matches Wits With Police

PACIFIC, Mo., Aug. 28 (AP)—Elusive William Merle Martin, one of the FBI's ten most wanted fugitives, matched his knowledge of the woods tonight with State and Federal officers in a daring game of hide-and-seek in the rugged countryside near here.

He had taken to the woods, eluding roadblocks, bloodhounds and a patrol plane in a full scale hunt beginning last night and stretching through the day.

But the Missouri Highway patrol waited. It felt sure he still was within its cordon, snuggled around 20 square miles of hilly, heavily wooded country. As dusk approached it tightened its ring. The officers reasoned the 42-year-old convict might make a break for it in the darkness.

Martin is a man who knows his way around in the woods and the officers weren't discounting it. Hunting and fishing is one of his hobbies. Collecting guns is another. He is known to have had as many as 10 of them at one time.

He took to the woods last night after State troopers gave chase to a stolen car 30 miles west of St. Louis, forcing the driver to abandon it.

Stevenson Calls for Silencing of Filibusters To Permit Passage of Civil Rights Laws

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois declared tonight that the "tireless voice" of Senate filibusters must be stifled to permit Congressional passage of civil rights legislation.

The Democratic nominee speaking at the New York State Democratic and Liberal party convention taunted Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to choose something besides the "middle of the gutter road" in deciding whether to support Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

In his first major discussion on the controversial civil rights issue, the Illinois Governor

Virginia Reaction To Adlai Varies

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 28 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson of Illinois received a tepid endorsement from the Virginia Democratic State Central committee today and a warm one from Governor John S. Battle.

The party governing body voted against any formal bolt of the national Democratic presidential ticket and instructed a newly named temporary chairman to set up headquarters and work for the election of all Democratic candidates—national, State and local.

Choice of a temporary chairman to see the party along the road to election day became necessary when former Governor William M. Tucker bowed out as chairman because of his unwillingness to express a choice for president at this time.

But Battle—a member of the big three of Virginia Democratic politics with Senator Harry F. Byrd and ex-Governor Tucker—said nor American officials would discuss the nature of their talks to leadership that would further

Karastan

BEAUTIFUL RUGS

"Power-Loomed in U.S.A."—the secret that gives you this beauty, this luxury, so that American homes can have rugs of this character at a modest price. Mechanical fingers on giant looms precisely place the hundreds of thousands of tufts in place—so the design is just as intricate and expensive looking! Even the worsted yarns are extra luxurious — and each tuft is woven through the back. So skillfully do these looms achieve artistry that even the fringe is part of the rug itself like a real Oriental. See how little you pay for this beauty—and ask any Karastan owner if they've ever heard of a Karastan wearing out!

European Tour Is Over for Margaret Truman

PARIS, Aug. 28 (AP)—Margaret Truman wound up a five-week visit to Europe with some last-minute shopping in Paris today.

Then she took the boat train to Le Havre and embarked on the S. S. United States for New York.

Asked what she had bought in Paris, she said:

"That's a secret. I don't want to tell you because I don't want my family to learn about it before I get home."

The president's daughter arrived in Paris this morning from Oslo. She went immediately to see Mrs. Perle Mesta, U. S. minister to Luxembourg and an old friend of the Truman family.

Miss Truman and her traveling companion, Mrs. Drucie Snyder Horton, lunched with Mrs. Mesta at the Ritz hotel.

No time was scheduled for sight seeing because Miss Truman had stopped here three days earlier on her European tour, which took her to Britain, Ireland, France, Switzerland, Austria, Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Finland and Norway.

She described the tour as "mag-nificent."

Her Family Calls — She Goes

What is wrong when a young woman who has been married only two years continually leaves her husband and rushes a couple of thousand miles to answer calls made upon her by her parents?

Does the trouble lie with the girl's marriage, or inside her own personality, that she insists on putting apparently unwarranted demands of her family ahead of her husband?

Here is the story of one husband who has such a problem:

"Two years ago I married a girl and brought her across the country to live. I had known and been in love with this girl all my life.

"During the past year, my wife has gone back across the country three times to take care of her parents, who are growing old and sick. The first time she stayed about six weeks. The second time, she was gone eight weeks, and now, the third time, it is 12 weeks since she left me and went back home. Her father had written her a letter telling her to come home and saying that was where she belonged, so she went. Her father is her boss.

"I don't mind doing my part and taking whatever is necessary, but my wife's brother and his wife have offered to move in with her parents and give them what ever help they need, so it seems to me as though it is simply a case of her father wanting his daughter with him with no consideration for me being left without a wife. My wife's parents are well fixed. They have a fine home and plenty of money. But they will not hire anyone to look after them, and they refuse to accept the offer of their son and his wife to take care of them, even though those two live in the same city with the parents.

"I am a home-loving man who works hard every day, even Saturday and Sunday if I can. Do you think it is fair that my wife should go back home, the way she has done, and stay there indefinitely, leaving me all alone?"

Obviously, the answer to this last question is No, but such an answer means exactly nothing. The really significant question is that cries out for an answer is the one I have suggested at the beginning of this column: "Why does this wife do as she does?"

If one is to judge solely by what her husband says, one can only think that this girl has grown up so completely dominated by her parents that even now, as a married woman, she automatically does as she is told. If this is actually the case, and the root of the whole trouble, I'm afraid, this husband has a hard problem on his hands, for it is one which cannot be solved without an overhauling of his wife's whole attitude.

To take the matter up from a wholly different angle, there is one sentence in this man's letter which makes me wonder if there may be any other reason for his wife's frequent return to her parents' home. He describes himself as a man who works hard every day and who would even work Saturdays and Sundays if he could. Does this suggest that perhaps he may have been placing his work ahead of his wife and so has failed to fill his own proper role as a husband and companion to her? Possibly he was away from home at work so much of the time that she was often lonely. This, I think, is something for him to consider carefully.

Once he is able to decide which is the biggest factor in the case, he will know better how to proceed. If he has been at fault, let him write and tell his wife so

Quick Attention Helps In Removing Stains From Soiled Clothing

Every day brings its share of stains on clothing. Prompt attention to these stains will give good results, points out Mrs. Della Short, home economics extension representative, Montgomery county.

Ink is among the common offenders of stains, but fortunately most inks are washable. A good sudsing in warm water and soap is usually all that's necessary. However, a light sponging with hydrogen peroxide is needed to remove the remaining stain on white fabrics. Be sure to rinse well to remove all traces of peroxide. With colored fabrics, sponging with warm glycerine will do the trick. Allow glycerine to stay on fabric 30 minutes, then rinse well.

MOST CANDY stains wash out at once, but chocolate often needs a little further treatment. After washing in lukewarm water, use hydrogen peroxide to remove the rest of the stain, then rinse well. If the stain is on a garment that can't be washed, sponge with carbon tetrachloride.

For grass stains on all washable fabrics, rub the stain with cooking fat or oil, then wash in warm soapsuds. On other fabrics, sponge with benzine or a solution of equal parts denatured alcohol and water. However, test these liquids first on a piece of the fabric to be sure they don't change the color.

Allow a mud stain to dry, then brush away as much of the stain as possible. On washable material, wash out any remaining stain with soap and water. For unwashable fabric, sponge the stain with denatured alcohol.

Mrs. Paul Gerhart Feted At Pennsburg RD Home

Mrs. Paul Gerhart, Sassamansville, was honored recently with a stork shower given by Miss Nan Bennicott, Massapequa, N. Y. The shower was held at Gale House Farm, Pennsburg RD.

Greens framed the doorway entwined with yellow streamers and umbrellas. A kewpie doll greeted each guest from its place above the doorway. The honored guest's chair was also decorated with yellow and green streamers and the gifts were found in an old fashioned cradle.

Refreshments were served later in the evening.

The following guests attended: Mrs. Raymond Conrad and daughter, Sharon, Red Hill; Mrs. William Maas, Miss Esther Freen, East Greenville; Mrs. Harold Oberholzer, Miss Jean Miller, Pennsburg; Mrs. Arthur Bucks, Sassamansville; Miss Nancy Hasson, Frederick; and Mrs. Michael Fyre, Gale House Farm.

'Just Right' Paris Styles Not Too Slim or Too Full

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS, Aug. 28 (AP)—The 1952 Fall and Winter silhouette, as decreed by French fashion experts, is a compromise that should suit most figures: It's neither too full nor too slim.

The hems have dropped an inch or two to 12 inches from the floor. First pictures of the new-style furs are being released this week. Even weekend, a month after the first Fall showings in Paris. This release is set by designers here to minimize copying before the Paris fashion experts have finished their little wars to Americans and other foreigners.

WOMEN WHO like to nip in their figures with tight belts at the waistline will have to turn to Christian Dior this season. Nearly all the other designers leave the waist loose and low for a middy effect. Daytime necklines are modestly high in the new fashions, but they get lower and lower on cocktail, dinner and dance dresses.

Dark and sober colors lead the field this time. Black, dark grey, brown and beige predominate, relieved a bit by some dark reds, purples and blue-greens.

SOME DESIGNERS, including Dior and Givenchy, brought out Winter prints for the first time. Appropriately enough, they imitate furs for a warm look, though they're really made of silk. Even more popular are plaids, ranging from dark, muted ones to bold, bright ones.

Rough tweeds are favorites for suits and coats. They're often trimmed with beaver or other fur collars and cuffs. Other fabrics are luxurious velvets and lace. Wool Jersey also is popular.

Trimming gimmicks are nearly nonexistent in the new Fall styles. Griffe puts a blanket veto on all other buttons and belts. Balenciaga creates the most barren effect of all with collarless and lapelless jackets and coats. Costume jewelry is mostly small, flat and discreet. Hat trimmings follow the same trend.

ous the designers have been in Dior—"profile" line, usually with exaggerated hips and bust and of Britain's Queen Elizabeth II. small waist, always with a long, Ball gowns have wide, billowing skirts. Elizabethan skirts and voluminous cloaks or stoles go with them. Often styles, with wing-like lapels or though, they're made or trimmed with royal purple.

Fath—"freed" line, with the Here are some of the lines: waist only draped, not belted in, launched by different designers: and with tummy rather bulging.

Man Held as Drunk Awaits Grand Jury On Cruelty Charge

A Penn Village man awaiting action by the September grand jury on a charge of cruelty to his children was committed to Montgomery county prison for ten days last night on charges of drunk and disorderly conduct.

Stanley Drabinsky, Custer court, was committed by Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley, of the Second ward, at a hearing in borough hall.

He had been charged with annoying pedestrians at High and Hanover streets by attempting to pin tiny red, white and blue bows resembling the flag on them and demanding a quarter for the bows.

He had been arrested by Motor Patrolman Paul I. Galloway and Patrolman Michael Fern.

Kelley said Drabinsky has been a "nuisance" for the quarry as the crane was on its same offense.

The cruelty charges against Drabinsky were brought by his neighbors the past June. Judge Harold E. Knight at that time released Drabinsky on his own recognizance pending grand jury action.

Kelley said the jury is expected to act on the charge sometime next week.

GEORGE ARMS—

ally, Arms said: "Unless he has to for his health or he's accompanied by friends from home, that's no place for a man to go, especially if he's had long associations with the fine people up here, like I've had."

BEFORE HE returned to Pottstown on Wednesday, the 44-year-old Arms had never been in an airplane in his life.

"I'd seen a lot of those broken-wing fliers up at Mill park after the first World War," Arms said. "They'd take you up for $10 an hour and flop you over."

"I decided then that as for airplanes, never knowingly, with my consent, would I go up in one."

Arms decided to make an exception on the trip from Florida because he felt a 25-hour train trip or a 36-hour bus trip would be too hard on him. Of his 1300-mile airline flight, he said, "I never had a better time in my life. Now I'd never travel any other way."

After the trip, he printed a card thanking the hostess and pilots for their splendid work.

Arms regretted he couldn't do the card in the elegant handwriting with which he used to engross certificates and other formal papers for Pottstown lodges and civic organizations. Age has forced him to discontinue this exacting work.

The 44-year-old Pottsonian was treasurer of Brookside Country club for nearly 20 years until his retirement three years ago.

HE ALSO had been a borough councilman and justice of the peace for the Fourth ward. For 20 years he lived at High and Adams streets.

He was an accountant and penmanship expert in the offices of Pottstown iron companies.

In the depth of the depression, he said, "There was nothing to account for." He left the business world and went to Brookside.

Unusually active for his years, Arms drove a car in Pottstown when he was past 80. He stopped this after his car was smashed three years ago by a tractor-trailer at High and Adams streets.

If carbon monoxide is present in the air in proportions of one to 1000 parts, human beings will be poisoned.

dangling from the cable, the crane motor stalled and he was unable to release his load.

Manually, he stopped the swing of the boom. Inertia from the sudden stop rocked the crane, which slumped over on its right side.

When the crane toppled, a wooden block under the steel outrigger on its right side gave way.

URBAN, a strapping man weighing more than 200 pounds and dressed in olive trousers, an olive shirt and a blue railroad-type hat, went about the job with a crew of workmen who righted the crane with no evident shock.

Although equipment manufacturers recommend that workmen ride their equipment to the ground for maximum safety, Urban decided to take his chances with a second winch-truck was hooked to the right side of the fallen crane. As the first winch pulled the crane to a near upright position, power was applied on the second winch so the crane could be eased to the ground on its 10 huge rubber tired wheels.

THE MAIN damage to the crane, if any, will be in motors and rigging.

Before the Pollock crew arrived, the caterpillar shovel, operated by Alfred Lupacchino, 411 Berks street, Stowe, tried to right the crane.

Without benefit of a winch cables attached to the crane snapped like rubber bands.

Helping supervise the operation was Leon P. Malley, Philadelphia, general manager of the Stowe Trap Rock company.

iously had located several hundred dollars worth of stolen goods.

In most of five Collegeville RD 1 offenses, Summer homes along Grange avenue, northeast of Collegeville, were burglarized and ransacked. In several cases, windows were broken or furnishings damaged.

THE BOYS, whose names are being withheld by The Mercury because of their ages, will face charges of malicious mischief as well as burglary when brought before Montgomery county juvenile authorities, to whom State police turned over the boys.

Most of the $25 in cash stolen Wednesday night from the home of Fred J. Peters, a retired druggist, has been recovered. Twenty dollars in cash stolen a week ago from the home of George Klusman was not recovered.

The youngsters are accused of twice breaking into the home of Norman L. Jones, ransacking, breaking windows and stealing miscellaneous articles of small value on Aug. 15, and returning over the past weekend to steal foodstuffs and damage furnishings.

The fifth offense was the stealing of tractor tools and breaking valves on tractor tires of Earl Roth, the past week.

The office of William D. Mower, principal, has been painted, and fluorescent lights added.

Here are some of the improvements made at remaining borough schools:

whether it could be some relative of Frank trying to locate his family in the east.

An exchange of correspondence proved that she was the daughter of Frank. The wandering brother had changed his name when he left for the West to search for gold so that his family would not locate him easily and try to stop him.

The search for the precious metal proved fruitless and Frank started back east and settled in Kansas, learning the trade of cabinet making. He raised five daughters and one son.

He died in 1925.

Mrs. Seawell often heard her father mention that he had spent a lot of time in Allentown and Pottstown and for years she tried to locate some of his family here.

Finally in 1947 she ran an advertisement in The Mercury.

She came east immediately after it was certain that Trumbauer was her uncle and about a year later Trumbauer visited her at her home in Kansas.

Yesterday, they had their first reunion in four years.

Mrs. Seawell said when she saw her uncle for the first time at the crowded Paoli station five years ago, "I knew him right away because he looked so much like my father. It was the thrill of a lifetime and one I'll never forget."

CHARLES ENDY—

United Steel Workers (CIO).

Baker said of the new commissioner last night, "He seems to have a level head and I think he'll do a good job for the township."

Endy was not available last night for comment on his appointment. He and his wife, Anna V. (Bove), are vacationing in Florida and are expected home Sunday or Monday. The couple has no children.

Endy, his partner said, did not seek the commissionership; it was offered to him by township Republican leaders. Dori said last night Endy probably will be installed as commissioner at the board's Oct. 1 meeting.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Endy, 10 Glasgow street, Endy began working as a watchman in 1924 for Krause and Ludwick, a Pottstown automobile agency. By 1942 he had risen to be foreman of the agency's repair shop.

He was drafted into the Army that year. He served three years, then was discharged as a private first class.

A's Late Rally Beats Bosox

The second game was postponed because of wet grounds. Boston held a 3 to 2 edge going into the last of the eighth, having scored one run on Billy Goodman's double and Clyde Vollmer's single. The first, another on Dick Gernert's 14th homer in the fourth and a third in the fifth inning on starting pitcher Mickey McDermott's single and Vollmer's two-run homer. Dave Philley's fifth home run in the first and Allie Clark's double in the fourth had scored the A's runs.

After three walks filled the bases in the eighth, Gus Zernial's fly limited Pete Suder. Clark was tagged on an intentional pass and Cass Michaels unloaded his double to the left field wall. Del Wilber homered for the Red Sox in the ninth.

Wilber had entered the ball game in the eighth after catcher Jimmy White of the Sox and third baseman Billy Hitchcock of the Athletics were thrown out of the game in trading punches.

Ewell Blackwell Goes to Yankees

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—The New York Yankees today purchased pitcher Ewell Blackwell from the Cincinnati Reds, marking the fourth straight year they have reached into the rival circuit to pluck a big name player to aid in their pennant drive.

The Yankees gave up four players including pitcher Johnny Schmitz and cash for the big right-hander. The other three are minor leaguers.

The Yankees refused to say how much cash they had to shell out for Blackwell but it must have been in the neighborhood of $50,000 since they had to outbid Cleveland and the Chicago White Sox for his services.

Hank Greenberg, general manager of the Indians, was in the running for Blackwell until the last moment when he was outbid by the Yankees.

Blackwell follows the August route taken by Johnny Mize, Johnny Hopp and Johnny Sain, all former National Leaguers who made their way to the Yankees and the pot of pennant gold. The Yankees purchased Mize from the New York Giants in 1949 and he helped them win the flag that year.

They bought Hopp from Pittsburgh in 1950 and went on to capture the flag. Last year the Yankees obtained Sain from the Boston Braves and marched to their third straight world championship.

Although Blackwell is in the midst of his poorest season in the big leagues, he may prove to be as valuable an addition to the Yankees as each of the three previous National League purchases. The 6-5 California-born right-hander has been able to win only three games this year against a dozen reversals. In addition, he currently is plagued by a sore arm and hasn't pitched since Aug. 7. He will be 30 in October.

The sore arm angle probably is the reason why all National League clubs waived on the once great pitcher. Under the rules, before a player can be transferred from a club in one league to a club in another, he first must be offered to all seven other clubs in his league for the waiver price of $10,000. Because the deal was completed before Sept. 1 Blackwell will be eligible for the World Series if the Yankees win the pennant.

It is no secret that Blackwell was unhappy in Cincinnati where he toiled brilliantly at times through six seasons. He generally was acclaimed baseball's No. 2 hurler in 1947 when he won 22 games for the second division Reds, including 16 straight.

His triumphs included a no-hitter against Boston. He came within two outs of equalling Johnny Vander Meer's major league record of hurling two successive no-hitters when he held the Brooklyn Dodgers hitless until one out in the ninth in his next start.

Reds Defeat Braves in 11th; Smith Winner

CINCINNATI, Aug. 28 (AP)—Shortstop Roy McMillan singled home Hank Edwards with the winning run in the 11th inning today to give the Cincinnati Reds a 5 to 4 victory over the Boston Braves.

Jim Wilson was pounded out in the eighth when Cincinnati scored three times to take a 4 to 2 lead.

Boston came right back in the ninth, banging out four safeties to count twice off Frank Smith, the winning pitcher, and tie the count.

Smith, who pitched a complete game, won the game, 5-4, after allowing four runs in the eighth and ninth.

Dodgers Beat Cubs, 9-6, to Maintain Lead

CHICAGO, Aug. 28 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers scored one run in the first inning and four in the second and seventh today to defeat the Chicago Cubs 9 to 6 and maintain their lead over the second-place New York Giants.

The Giants dropped the Pittsburgh Pirates 14 to 7.

Gil Hodges powered a clutch two-run double in the seventh inning for the Dodgers to seal the decision. Dutch Leonard's throwing error enabled Jackie Robinson to score the tie-breaking first run in the seventh before Hodges came to bat.

Roy Campanella tallied the final marker of the spurt on winning pitcher Joe Black's bun.

Brooklyn scored a run in the first on Robinson's triple, and George Shuba's single. The Dodgers picked up four more in the second.

After pecking away at starter Clem Labine for single runs in the first and third and adding two in the fourth, the Cubs fashioned a 5-5 standoff in the fifth when Hank Sauer scored on Dee Fondy's fly.

Chicago scored on Sauer's single, and the Indians ahead briefly 1-0.

Al Rosen's four singles drove in four runs in the Indians' victory. And in the second game his second-inning homer, Rosen's 24th, put the Indians ahead briefly 1-0.

Another victory would have boosted Cleveland to only one game behind the Yankees. But Cliff Mapes homered after Jim

Penn State Quarterback Injures Knee

STATE COLLEGE, Aug. 28 (AP)—Bob Stajna of Reading may have to be a full-time operator on offense as Penn State quarterback this season.

Stajna was supposed to split the signal calling duties with the veteran Tony Rados of Steelton, but the latter suffered a knee injury recently and may be lost for the entire season.

Rados, who attended Summer school, decided ten days ago to go into training early. He wanted to be in good shape for the opening of pre-season drills.

But he quit suddenly one day when his right knee hurt him. Medical attention determined he had aggravated an old injury. A loose cartilage has since been returned to position, but the pain and the swelling are still there.

Dr. A. H. Griess, team physician, doubts that Rados will return to action in a hurry.

Coach Rip Engle is now forced to turn to inexperienced sophomores to back up Stajna. He'll have to choose from Don Bailey of Pittsburgh, Johnny Dubinsky of Indiana, and a little left handed passer, Norman Paul of Ambler.

ENGLE HAS been trying for the past two seasons to install the T formation at State where the single wing had prevailed for more than 20 years.

"Just when I thought I had the quarterback position under control," Engle moaned, "this thing had to happen. Is there no justice?"

Giants Maul Pirates, 14-7

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 28 (AP)—Whitely Lockman's two-run homer in the first inning sent the New York Giants rolling today to an easy 14-7 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Veteran southpaw Dave Koslo went the distance for the Giants.

Ralph Kiner blasted his 29th homer with one aboard in the Pirates four-run sixth. They got two more in the eighth.

Alvin Dark and Bob Thomson, with three hits apiece led the New York attack which saw every member of the starting nine except Koslo hit safely.

Jim Waugh, the first of five Pirates hurriers, was charged with the loss.

New York scored three runs in the first on Koslo's single, Thomson's double, and Lockman's homer.

Phils Extend Cards Losing Streak to 6

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 28 (AP)—Although scored Del Ennis for the final out in the eighth, the Philadelphia Phillies extended their losing streak to six games today by losing to the St. Louis Cardinals 6 to 1.

Willie Jones and Smokey Burgess hit home runs for the Phils.

Although behind 5-0 in the third inning, the Cardinals peeked away at Roberts until they tied the score 6-6 in the seventh on Red Schoendienst's home run behind singles by Peanuts Lowrey and Solly Heusch.

Harry Brecheen then took over St. Louis mound duty, and the Phils' Richie Ashburn belted in two runs. Burgess' homer in the ninth.

Unknowns Gain In Women's Golf
PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 28 (AP)—Shirley McFedders, a tall, child-nerved graduate of public links play, beat Claire Doran of Cleveland on the 20th hole today to put the last of the internationalists out of the Women's National Amateur Golf championship.

The defeat of Miss Doran, runner-up to Atlanta's Dot Kirby for the title last year and a member of this year's Curtis Cup team, left four comparative unknowns to fight it out for the title in tomorrow's semi-finals and the 36-hole final Saturday.

They are Miss McFedders, Mrs. Jacqueline Pung, Pat Lesser, and Pat Garner.

Taggin' Along

Pat Sundstrom, manager of SWA 2326 has asked that the protest he filed against the use of a player by USA-2177 be made public. Pat certainly has a gripe if the Junior league ruling that governs his protest means what it says.

The rhubarb started when USA-2177 defeated SWA in the first playoff game of the finals for the Junior league's post-season championship. Snyder had played with the Boytown Legion Juniors before playing with USA, and Sundstrom protested, referring to Article four, section four of the league by-laws. It states:

Each team is limited to 20 players, and players may sign up with only one team. Players cannot participate in other organized leagues, such as Junior Legion, Pottstown Knee-Hi, or Sunday School league, and others.

The protest was taken before the other managers of the league who voted Snyder was eligible. As Pat said, "Their decision stands, but I want people to get true picture of the situation." Could be the other managers didn't like the rough treatment Pat's boys gave them all season.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A LONE DINER on the Santa Fe Chief was handed a check for three dollars and ninety cents, and gave the waiter a five-dollar bill. The waiter put a dollar and a dime on the silver tray. The diner wrestled with the problem, then grunted angrily, and abruptly stuffed the dollar into his pocket. To his surprise, the waiter grinned broadly. "That's quite all right, sir," he said. "I just gambled and lost."

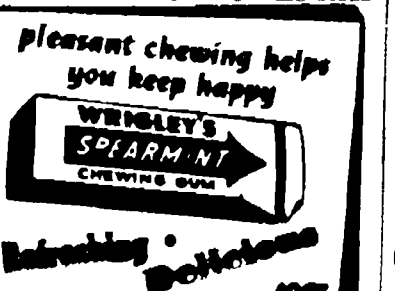

Joe McGregor made the front page again. He refused a raise in his pay of thirty dollars a week because he was afraid that if illness forced him to take a day off, he'd lose too much money.

A senator in Washington dismayed by tales of waste in the armed forces proposed a series of six one-hour lectures on economy for every soldier sailor and marine in uniform. He was dissuaded from pushing the motion by a statistician who proved that the lectures he proposed would cost seven million dollars.

Texans Are Divided Over Stevenson Support

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 28 (AP)—One of Texas' Democratic U. S. Senators and the governor are at odds over supporting Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D. Tex.) announced today that while he didn't agree with Stevenson's Tidelands stand, he would back the Democratic candidate.

Gov. Allan Shivers has said he could not personally vote for Stevenson because the party's choice doesn't approve of Texas' claim to the Tidelands, and because Stevenson would like to follow the doctrine of "Trumanism."

Further services were conducted. A number of steam driven automobiles from St. Gabriel's Episcopal mobiles were built before 1800.

Optimists Club Speech Stresses Helping Boys

"Our biggest job is to help boys," said E. R. J. Divens, of York, lieutenant governor of District 2 of the Optimists, to 20 members attending the meeting of the Pottstown Optimists club last night. Divens, who has 25 years experience working with youths in the Boy Scout movement and the Optimists, also said that "boys today are no different from those of any other generation."

In describing activities at the Optimists' Boys center in York, Divens told how only two out of 481 boys who had at one time or another frequented the center, "were bad—and they are the result of neglectful parents."

Last night's meeting was concluded with a discussion of plans for a dinner to "fete" members of the Junior Optimists' and Kenilworth Junior softball teams on Oct. 11.

Fathers of boys on the teams will be invited to the affair and souvenirs will be presented to each team member.

Man at Penn State Dismissed Over Oath

STATE COLLEGE, Aug. 28 (AP)—The Pennsylvania State college today fired a 52-year-old staff member for refusing to comply with the State's loyalty oath law.

Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, Penn State president, dismissed Wendell Scott MacRae, publications production manager of the Department of Information, effective immediately.

MacRae indicated during a hearing he might appeal the case to the courts to test the validity of the loyalty oath law. Dr. Eisenhower acted upon the report of the college loyalty review board which found that it lacked evidence essential to verify that MacRae "was not subversive."

The board report, Dr. Eisenhower said in a statement, "does not mean that Mr. MacRae is subversive."

New Borough Manager Is Praised

Off to Good Start

To the Editor: In my opinion, this new borough manager we have here, Mr. Gulden (Horace B. Gulden) is starting off in good, aggressive, outspoken style.

First, he told council the facts of life about our broken-down streets and what we'll need to make a start at fixing them.

Then, he tried something new, announcing that contracts will be let for electrical work, instead of having a full-time borough electrician.

Maybe it won't work, but at least Mr. Gulden is a man of ideas and he's willing to try things.

I hope he keeps up the good work and that the town politicians don't put the Indian sign on him.

Pottstown BOOSTER

Washington Campaign Chief Wyatt Disliked By Truman

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—Although even the courteous and restrained General Eisenhower has dubbed Wilson Wyatt, a "wild-eyed left-winger," the fact is that Harry S. Truman's private gripe against Governor Stevenson is the Democratic nominee's selection of the former Federal Housing Expediter as his personal campaign manager.

This general misjudgment of the Louisville man, and the significance of his selection, is one of the many oddities of this puzzling presidential campaign, in which Truman, Taft, Dirksen, Dewey, McCarthy, Jenner and other relatively minor figures are attracting more publicity, mostly bad, than the candidates themselves.

Even more than Stevenson's other attempts to muzzle Truman and to minimize his record and role, the nominee's choice of Wyatt to terminate the rule of the Hannegans, McGraths, Boyles and McKinness—Truman's political cronies and clubhouse pals—convince the White House that, as standard-bearer or "President," Stevenson will be no "stonge."

Privately, the Missourians inside the presidential circle who mirror and murmur the head man's viewpoint, ridicule the Wyatt-Mitchell-Schlesinger advisory council as savagely as old-line Democrats, in 1932, made fun of Franklin D. Roosevelt's amateur and professional "brain trust"—Raymond Moley, Adolph A. Berle, Rex Tugwell, Felix Frankfurter, Henry A. Wallace, etc.

DIFFERENCE: The cleavage between these two factions, despite understandable efforts to conceal it, runs deep. The Trumans, Dawsons, Connelys, Vaughans and Steelmans look upon politics and government as a game; the Stevenson coterie regard it as a civic responsibility and a difficult science.

As a comparison between Truman's partisan distastes and Stevenson's classic and cultured utterances reveals, they don't speak the same language or understand each other's approach to public problems.

In short, there is far more difference, basically, between Stevenson and Truman than there is between Stevenson and Eisenhower.

It is this paradox which makes it so difficult for millions of people to decide how they will vote next fall.

LIBERAL: Wyatt has been damned by General Eisenhower, Senator Nixon and Senator Dirksen, to list only his most prominent detractors, because he once headed the Americans for Democratic Action. It was the heads of this Humphrey-Moody-Biddle-Roosevelt organization which tried in vain to capture the party at Chicago, and to drive the South into political exile.

But Wyatt presided over ADA in 1947, before it had become a "captivity" of metropolitan and ideological leftists. In those days it fought against isolationism, backed the Marshall Plan, urged preservation of civil rights, opposed Communist infiltration of government, denounced the third-party movement organized by Wallace. It was liberal but not radical.

Wyatt himself, then and now, took issue with two of current ADA-er's basic demands. He favored revision of the Taft-Hartley Act, as against Truman's reiterated demand for repeal. He believes with Stevenson that the fair employment practices problem could be handled on a state level, unless proved and recurrent local abuses require federal action.

It is Wyatt's convention role in 1948, however, which placed him so high on Truman's extensive and comprehensive black book.

When other ADA officials, including James Roosevelt, were demanding that Truman be sidetracked in favor of General Eisenhower, Wyatt urged the nomination of Barkley for first place on the ticket. He was one of the Kentuckian's nominators for second place. At Chicago this year he voted along with the Kentucky delegation for Barkley against his old friend, Governor Stevenson.

FLOWERS FOR THE LIVING

For MR. AND MRS. HOWARD G. MOSER 214 Chestnut street Pottstown

BECAUSE they are observing their 20th wedding anniversary today.

have been done in the schools this Summer. I'm glad to know the schools have been fixed up and improved, especially the Senior High school. My son always told me how dingy some of the rooms were in the High school, and it was good to read in The Mercury where the school board made a lot of changes and made the place a lot brighter and more cheerful to be in.

It's never money wasted if the school board can do something to help our children or just make life a little brighter and more interesting for them during the hours they spend in the classrooms.

Is This Progress?

To the Editor: Were all your readers properly impressed when they read that an English jet plane made a round-trip across the Atlantic ocean in a little better than 10 hours?

I was impressed, but not in the way you might think.

It's darned ironic, that in this so-called age of progress, we're coming closer and closer to a situation which will allow anyone to go anywhere in the world within the space of a few hours, safely and comfortably, but we can't control the big problems that have bothered men ever since they came down from the trees.

We can cross the Atlantic in five hours, but we can't grow or make enough food for the millions of people who don't have enough to eat from one day to the next.

We can watch on television events taking place thousands of miles away, but we haven't made enough social progress to even make a good-sized dent in bigotry, suspicion and inter-racial quarreling.

I'd give all the jet planes, television sets and super-duper-sonic atomic and hydrogen bombs for the knowledge that will show men how to live together without tearing at one another's throats all the time.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

PAUL B. 28, has been married for three years. "Dr. Crane, we are expecting a baby in a couple of months," his wife told me. "I am reasonably healthy and active. I do my own housework. But I get tired more easily and have a severe headache at times."

"Then my husband will reach in his pocket and get out a copy of one of your former Case Records. He urges me to read it again."

"It was the one in which you described a temper tantrum wife who tried to make her husband wait upon her during her pregnancy. 'Paul acts as if he thinks I am purposely manufacturing my aches and pains as a means of getting him to coddle me.'"

"So won't you please write a Case Record for the husbands of girls who are soon to have babies?"

PAUL'S WIFE isn't the first one who has told me just such a story. Apparently hundreds of husbands clip out these Case Records whenever I describe some of the foibles of femininity.

But when I mention the faults of the male, then they quickly turn the page and affect disinterest in this column, at least on that particular day.

"I didn't know my husband read your column so faithfully," a wife recently reported to me.

But every time you pick up his wives, he always lays the newspaper on my lap and asks me to be sure to read your Case Record.

"Apparently he follows everything you write, but he won't admit it except when you pick up on us women. So why don't you pick on the men, Dr. Crane?"

So we shall pick on the men. They are much more egotistical than women. As a result of this greater self-interest, they consequently magnify pain more than do women.

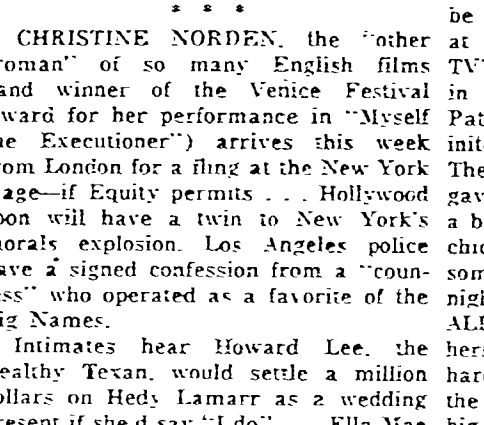

The average man will browbeat his wife by means of his various symptoms, real or imagined, and want her to coddle him as if he were in danger of dying, though he may have only a minor sinus headache.

Men are thus far bigger babies than are women as regards suffering pain. Some of the surgeons, moreover, who try to minimize a woman's protests over lack of adequate anesthesia, will yell like an Indian on the war path, if they have even a wart removed without total anesthesia!

Yet men like to think they are stoical and brave. So they may belittle their children for crying.

"Put up your dukes and fight like a man," they will dully advise their 6-year-old son.

But at that same age, papa may have been a shy little mollicoddle.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 28—Jack Benny, who hasn't made a movie in many a moon, is presently confabbing at Universal about another. Hope it jells. Incidentally, Bob Crosby will be with Jack on at least seven TV's, starting in October.

Pat Wymore, definitely NOT on The Star's list, gave out with a barbequed chicken feast for some friends last night and did ALL the cooking herself. After a hard day's toil at the studio, too! There was a big wing-ding at Conrad Hilton's on Saturday. The Alan Ladd's dined for sixty—mostly non-pros. They take off for that looney European trek end of the week, and tell us so far they haven't rented their huge mansion (complete with the servants) to anyone. But there's a deal cooking.

AT ANOTHER shindig we learned Gloria Vanderbilt, SR., and sister Thelma Furness, happily dwelling together in Beverly Hills, are up at the crack of dawn every morning, and at their downtown factory by 9. They work hard all day till dark sets in. Their Bikini dolls are selling like mad—and the twin socialites expect some new novelties they're manufacturing to do equally well.

Also into our shell-pink ear came the info that Jean Simmons and Stewart Granger have their big, rich Bel Air Mansion up for sale—or rent.

But not before she and Meyer had words! All this preceded the face-slapping Johnny administered to Anderson at Monaco later same night. POLLUTED RUNS — The board of health recommends that polluted runs which pass through the borough be arched as they may spread disease. They are Goose run, Tan Yard run and Hubley's run. For many years private sewers emptied into these runs at a time the borough was not closely built up. Now they are just common sewers.

ENDS FISHING — Snuggie Swoyer, Pottstown's veteran fisherman, has reeled in his lines. He claims there are no fish in the Schuylkill river any more — only Dutch carp. Snuggies favorite fishing spot for years has been near the Hanover street bridge. He and his boat have been familiar figures there for years.

COAL SCARCE — Due to the coal strike anthracite coal is very scarce and Pottstown dealers coal yards are almost bare. The coal famine is not troubling many farmers who have lots of wood in their wood houses. This Winter they can burn hickory chunks and keep nice and warm.

DIGNIFY — (DIG-ni-fy)—verb transitive: to invest with dignity; to give distinction to; to invest with a pretentious name or appearance. Origin: Old French—Dignifier; from Medieval Latin—Dignificare, from Latin—Dignus, worthy, plus ficare, to make.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN She Flies to School!... Easter in August...

★ MODERN YOUTH—These modern youths! Walking was the way old-timers went to school. Later youngsters rode on bicycles, and today the horrid jolopy is the means of transportation. But there's a Pottstown young lady who'll fly to school: She's Gloria Struckmann, daughter of Ernest T. Struckmann, the Smith pianist, who'll fly to Miami, Fla., Sunday to continue her studies at Miami High school. She's a junior in the Miami school, and is preparing for a secretarial career. Miss Struckmann's mother lives in Miami. She summers only in Pottstown. Her flight was arranged by the Storo Travel service. . . . When you're serving your Labor Day picnic lunch, don't forget to put some acrylnisothiocyanate on your hot dogs. It's delicious! Oh, you know, that's the stuff that gives mustard its characteristic flavor.

EASTER IN AUGUST—When Harry K. Umstead, 225 South Main street, Spring City, checked his flower garden the other day he thought it was Easter in August. This past Easter Umstead was given a white Easter lily by his sister, Mrs. Walter Bender, Church street, Royersford. After the lily bloomed prolifically in his home, Umstead transplanted it in the garden. The recent inspection revealed seven perfect blooms. Umstead's garden includes, dahlias, gladioli and roses. . . . Newest item to be packed in those pressurized tin cans is fire extinguisher fluid. No small squirt, though. Pulling a ring releases the extinguishing liquid, all of it, and when the container is empty, you just toss it away.

★ BACK TO SCHOOL—All the youngsters are getting ready for a return to school, to college, and to preparatory school. One of our energetic finger filberts has just figured out more young persons get college degrees today than used to earn high school diplomas 50 years ago. . . . Despite high rate of college graduations, nearly four million dollars worth of scholarships went begging in this country the past year. You can get a list of the available scholastic lifts in a booklet at the US government printing office in Washington, but it'll cost you 55 cents. . . . One of the sad experiences of this column's school days was the suicide of a Siamese prince. He was chagrined because he couldn't memorize the book of logarithms, worried so much he took his life.

UP TO DATE—New note in umbrellas is one with a flashlight built into the handle. If it's dark but not raining, you can carry just the handle. Unless that would make you feel too, too silly. . . . Tip for gardeners: To lessen those knee twinges after a batch of weeding or hand cultivating, just rig up a small sand bag, not too well stuffed, with the material. The sand fastens itself into a form-fitting cushion for those kneeling jobs. . . . For a handy container for smokes on that fishing or hunting trip, just preempt one of those tin hand aid containers. It'll keep you supplied at least until you get to the nearest cigaret machine.

★ STUFF—Maybe the odor lingers on but the onion is considered one of the finest preventatives of scurvy. It's one of the oldest vegetable foods eaten by man. Onions figure in records of feasts since the days of the early Egyptians. . . . If you don't like onions, you do like ham and eggs! A survey showed they're the favorite American meal. Milk is the top beverage. Turnips and parsnips turned up noses of the persons surveyed. . . . Put window handles on those wooden lawn chairs, and they'll be a lot easier to rush in and out during this rainy weather! . . . Plastics may replace the bird! The shuttlecock used in badminton is being made with plastic vanes, replacing those that used to be fashioned with feathers.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. RUNDESEN, M. D.

A NEW drug extracted from the stomach of the hog may finally give us long-sought relief from the pain of shingles. Little has been known about relieving this distress up to now.

Over the years, shingles has been one of the most unpleasant of man's maladies, though it is not usually dangerous to life. Most doctors agree that shingles can be traced to a virus infection of the nerves. It is a frequent complication of chronic and disabling diseases; is more common after the age of fifty, and occurs more often in men than women.

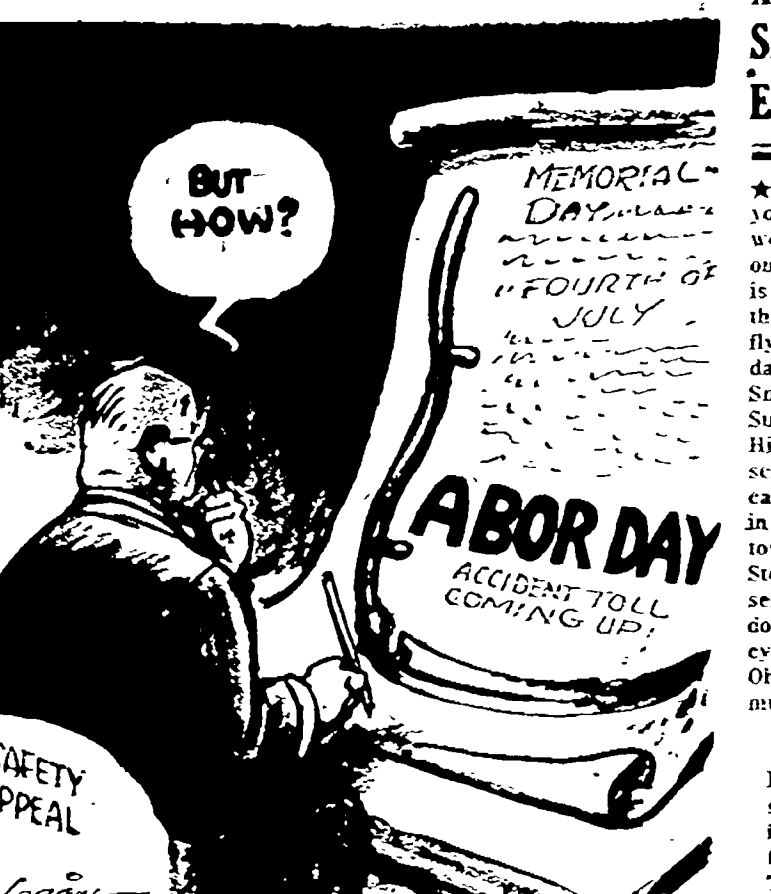

An attack of shingles usually occurs in early summer or late autumn. Three or four days before it actually appears there may be chills and a feeling of extreme weariness. On the fourth or fifth day of these symptoms, different parts of the skin break out in a crop of small blisters around a red base. The pain from these blisters is severe. Eventually they dry up and scab.

Many times blisters occur over the heart area. Sometimes they are mistaken for a severe heart attack before they actually break out.

To relieve shingles, a new drug named protamide was recently tested. This drug is derived from substances taken from the lining membrane of a hog's stomach. After being purified, it is injected into the tissues of the person having the attack.

Injections of the drug have been found to relieve the severe pain and also assist in heading the blisters. In some cases they may have to be given every six hours, but the usual schedule is an injection every two or three days.

In one test group of fifty patients with severe shingles, four out of five showed good results, while in three out of five cases the results were excellent. Thus, in the future, people may be spared much suffering from shingles, thanks to medical science and research.

Pottstown's Prides

Another in the series of beautiful homes that make Pottstown warm

"We keep after it," is the explanation by Mrs. P. Robert Daylor (on terrace), 721 North Hanover street, of how she and her husband have kept their house, built in 1935, in this new-looking condition. They spent $5000 for the house and two lots (without landscaping or paving) 17 years ago, and have spent about $3000 more improving it. Their contractor was Nathaniel Brunner, Stowe. Improvements included enclosing the porch at left and putting picture windows and knotty-pine paneling there; buying a third lot at right; adding the year 'round aluminum awnings, which are green and white, to match the house-roof color scheme; replacing clapboard with asbestos shingling on the side of the house; modernizing the kitchen, and putting the lantern post along the front steps. The house has six rooms and bath, and a big attic and cellar. Daylor is a riveting foreman for Bethlehem Steel company.

Police Recover Car 13 Hours After Theft

A 1947 sedan, stolen from the rear of the home of its owner, Kenneth F. Davis, 444 Lincoln avenue, was found early yesterday morning, 13 hours after it disappeared, less than a block from the Davis home.

Davis said a neighbor, John F. Meade, 425 Lincoln avenue, found the automobile in an alley behind his home about 9 a. m. and notified borough police.

Police then notified Mrs. Davis of the auto's recovery. Davis said last night the window of the driver's door had been cracked after the vehicle's theft.

Former Convict Held In Gang-Style Killing

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 28.—Police arrested a former convict today for questioning in the gang-style slaying Tuesday night of Joseph F. Gribler, a union business agent.

Held without charge was John J. Vitale, who was sentenced to seven years in prison on a narcotics charge in 1941. Police said they learned Vitale was seen in the company of Gribler just 10 minutes before the union official was shot to death.

Names of persons who told police they had seen the men together were withheld by police.

MOSLEMS ARE STILL STRANDED

Pilgrims to Mecca Are Given New Hope From American Airlift

BEIRUT, Lebanon Aug. 28 (AP)—Moslem pilgrims still stranded at this Middle East crossroads were given new hope today of reaching Mecca. The deadline for ending the American airlift to Saudi Arabia was pushed back to dawn tomorrow.

U. S. Air Force transports, which in the past three days already have flown nearly 3000 pilgrims to the Red Sea port of Jidda, 40 miles from Mecca, continued their round the clock magic carpet operation in an effort to carry in the 1000 or so pilgrims remaining.

Saudi Arabian authorities had originally said the flights must end at noon today, because pilgrims arriving later would not get to the famed Black Stone shrine of Mohammed in time for the year's opening ceremonies. Special arrangements finally were agreed upon for the 18 hour extension.

According to Moslem belief, a Moslem must make the pilgrimage to the birthplace of Mohammed at least once during his lifetime to achieve salvation.

THE U. S. Government sent in 12 big C-54 transport planes of the Air Transport Service—most of them from Wheelus Air Force base in Libya—in response to a call for help when regular air lines became swamped.

American officials had to reject a similar appeal from Iran. In accord with Iranian Government officials they felt that operations from Tehran would be impractical and would not get the pilgrims to Jidda in time.

But the unprecedented American bid for Moslem goodwill was bearing fruit in widespread praise—even from Nationalists who usually express hatred for all foreigners and reluctantly from the Communist press here.

The pro Communist newspaper Ash Shark in Beirut said left handedly that the U. S. government doubtless used the pilgrim airlift as a means of spreading American propaganda, but added: "There is no doubt whether we like it or not that they (the Americans) deserve to be thanked by the pilgrims and respected by public opinion."

The Beirut Daily Star commented: "For the first time in the history of aviation military planes are being used in the service of the soul."

Board Sets Precedent in Bargaining Election

HARRISBURG, Aug. 28 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Labor Relations board set a precedent today in conducting a collective bargaining election of public employees with the consent of the employer. Municipalities, school districts and other political subdivisions are exempt from jurisdiction of the board but Secretary George Walker said the board entered the case because the employing school district agreed to it. The case involved 38 maintenance employees of the Wilkinsburg school district. Walker said 36 of the employees voted to affiliate themselves with an AFL union.

RECOVERY COMPLETE

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 28 (AP)—Recovery from the crippling 50-day steel strike was virtually completed in the Pittsburgh district the past week, the University of Pittsburgh Bureau of Business research reported today.

Lost Horse Found By Collegeville Boy

A Skippack girl's riding horse was found yesterday morning after campers and counselors at a camp near Collegeville had joined her and her family in a hunt for it.

The chestnut mare, Velvet, wandered away from a camp, north-east of Collegeville, on Wednesday. The searching party was at it until almost midnight, without success.

Meanwhile, Joseph H. Kennedy, Grange avenue, Collegeville RD 1, reported to Jeffersonville State police that his son, Joseph H. Kennedy Jr., had seen a lost-looking horse wander by and had brought it onto the farm to await its owner.

Max Wandrer, who lives at the camp all year, saw the horse when driving past the Kennedy farm. He drove it back to its owner, his granddaughter, Lynn Wandrer, of Skippack.

Man Injured When Trailer Hitch Slips

Robert Wright, Pottstown Star Route, was recovering at home yesterday from a severe gash of a finger that came within a split second of being smashed.

Wright was helping fill a silo on a farm near Linfield Wednesday afternoon, when the hitch of a two-wheel trailer dropped onto a rock on which Wright had his left hand.

In jerking his hand away, Wright lost his glove, but he escaped with a laceration of the little finger. The injury required three double stitches to close the wound when he went to Memorial hospital's dispensary Wednesday night.

Negotiations Ended For Israel Claims

WASSENAR, The Netherlands, Aug. 28 (AP)—Representatives of Israel and world Jewry concluded successfully today their negotiations with Western Germany over reparations for suffering inflicted on Jews by the Nazis.

Draft agreements concluded here will be submitted to the respective governments and to the presidium of the world conference on Jewish material claims against Germany in New York. They will be initiated here Sept. 5 by members of the delegations and will be signed later by German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Israel Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett in Luxembourg.

As expected, the agreement with Israel provides for payment of 75 million dollars, mostly in goods. This will aid Israel in the settling of newcomers. Western Germany will provide such manufactured items as pumps and pipes needed in the development of irrigation projects.

Baptist Church to Hold Community Hymn Sing

A community hymn sing will be held at East Nantmeal Baptist church Sunday at 8 p. m. by the church's Christian Endeavor society, it was announced yesterday.

Carl H. Martin, Honeybrook evangelistic singer, will lead the hymns. Betty Sheeler, Elverson, will accompany him at the piano.

There also will be vocal and instrumental solos, including accordion selections by Edgar Lockart, Chester Springs.

The Rev. M. M. Smith, Honeybrook, will speak on "The Gospel for Such an Age as This."

Ike May Be 1st Candidate Voting on Absentee Ballot

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower may be the first major party presidential candidate in history to vote for himself by absentee ballot.

The Republican standard-bearer requested an absentee ballot yesterday when he registered in New York, asking that it be sent to Denver. An aide explained that the General might be away from New York, his voting residence, on election day.

Political records here make no mention of any previous nominee's casting his ballot otherwise than in person. The candidate voting for himself—usually early in the morning—is a familiar part of the American election day picture.
